Our Story
Theresa’s Fund is an Arizona 501(c)3 formed in 1992 to help prevent domestic violence. Its original focus was drastically improving shelter services in the state.

At a time 24 years ago when domestic violence wasn’t yet a headline, Theresa’s Fund boldly raised awareness regionally and provided matching grants and fundraising consultation to help create some of the most robust shelters in the country.

But the story really began many decades earlier in the small mountain village of Agnone, Italy ...
… Theresa was so badly abused as an infant, Italian authorities took her away from her birth parents in 1952.

She was adopted by caring American parents, grew up normally and became a successful occupational therapy executive.

She knew nothing of the abuse until years later when, as an adult, she experienced hip pain and her doctor asked, while reviewing her x-rays, “When did you break your hip?”
The revelation triggered Theresa to explore her youth, a process that proved so traumatizing that it resulted in her loving marriage of 16 years suffering and dissolving.

Her husband then committed the rest of his life to preventing domestic violence and Theresa's Fund was born.

Theresa healed, eventually embracing her namesake charity and died at age 66 of cancer the same week that DomesticShelters.org launched in 2014, timely bringing into existence her wish to expand the impact of Theresa's Fund across the country.
Before DomesticShelters.org, Theresa’s Fund changed the shelter landscape in its state.

Expanded from a 24 bed shelter to a dual location 146 bed shelter, as a result of fundraising consultation and a $500,000 grant from Theresa’s Fund that required matching funds to be raised from first time donors.

Contributed $100,000 and underwrote marketing materials for $25 million capital campaign that renovated a downtown hotel into a 350-bed emergency shelter, job training and transitional living facility for homeless families.

Contributed first major donation that triggered additional large gifts to move this service for at-risk girls and young women from its rundown facilities to a new safe group home and award-winning Girls Leadership Academy.

Led the merger of two competing, underfunded shelters (hence the name “Emerge”) and provided a $500,000 grant to complete the consolidation to create a 130-bed domestic violence shelter during the Great Recession.
The Problem
We Identified
Actions survivors commonly take when planning to leave an abusive relationship.

- Talk to a friend
- Call 911
- Call a hotline
- Read books
- Go online
Even though 5x more searches occur than hotline calls, no central online domestic violence service existed.

Fact: There are 7 million hotline calls annually according to NNEDV and NDVH and 36 million searches for “domestic violence” terms (see keyword categories above) annually in the U.S., according to Google.
While the Internet is full of information, a number of problems persisted.

- No central online service.
- Not all shelters have websites.
- Search can produce unhelpful listings.
- Right match often buried in search results.
- Insufficient data on shelters.
- Many sites not mobile-friendly.
- Finding help is confusing.
- Decision making becomes overly difficult.
- Too slow when time is of the essence.
The Solution
We Created
DomesticShelters.org is the first online and mobile searchable database of 3,000+ shelters in the U.S. and Canada.

The website contains 450+ articles, surveys and other resources for victims and professionals.

Every hour an average of 228 people visit the site to find help, shelter, info and a better way forward.

It is the fastest growing among all major domestic violence websites, helping 2.0 million visitors each year and growing at a rate of about 25% annually.
The site offers shelter search, an article archive and other helpful resources for desktops.

Accessible on desktop, tablet & smartphone

Optimized for mobile devices; important since 56% plus of Internet traffic comes from smartphones/tablets.
People search for help at DomesticShelters.org

Enter zip code, city, state or address here. Then press return to see shelters listed.

Searches can be refined with 100 language/service filters to locate the right match.

Fact: 50% of the site visits come from people looking to find a shelter.
They read and learn at DomesticShelters.org

Fact: More than 450 articles, adding 150 articles annually.

Fact: Curated library of 75+ recommended books in 13 essential categories.

Fact: Insights into what survivors experience; 12,000+ votes cast.
They socialize and help one another at DomesticShelters.org

- 80,000+ Facebook followers in 36 months, in addition to presence on all leading social platforms
- 375,000+ likes, shares or comments in 36 months; 320 likes, shares and comments per day
- Best Facebook engagement level of any national DV organization; visit our Facebook page and compare
- High engagement demonstrates unmet needs being served
By the Numbers
Traffic growth speaks to unmet need that exists and is beginning to be addressed.

Fact: People from more than 20,000 cities, and every country in the world, have visited the website.
And we help them find resources that match their preferred location and needs.

About half the people visiting the website use the search tool. Over 2.0 million domestic violence programs & shelters have been presented to visitors who used our search tool.

About half the people visiting the website do so to learn by reading articles, reviewing survey results, books and stats, using assessment tools, and tapping into other informative resources.
Survey of Professionals and Survivors
Recently a survey of 250 survivors, professionals serving survivors and others interested in domestic violence was conducted to obtain additional data on DomesticShelters.org, including people’s views about the website and their experiences with the website.

The survey results appear on the next seven pages. Among the significant findings is that respondents said DomesticShelters.org provides the most value to survivors of any key national domestic violence organization website. And that DomesticShelters.org is considered one of the most important new national resources developed in the last five years.

Wish List Program
Making Wish List Management and Gift Giving Easier
The Problem: Lack of wish list automation mutes giving

There are 2,700 shelter wish lists scattered around the U.S. Some live on shelter web sites as textual lists. Others can only be accessed by contacting a shelter. Both methods create giving barriers because purchasing and delivering items requires a logistical commitment by a donor, as well as their time/money.

1. Difficulty finding each shelter wish list online/offline.
2. Go to physical or online store to purchase item.
3. Contact shelter to arrange time to deliver item.
4. Make time to drive to shelter to deliver item.
5. Deliver item to shelter.
The Solution:
Turnkey online platform makes giving easy

What if all 2,700 wish lists were in one online place like DomesticShelters.org? And in a few clicks, donors could select the items they wanted to give, make the purchase and have delivery automatically arranged?

1. Make 3,000 shelter wish lists available on one website.
2. Donor clicks to purchase items, completing their giving in seconds.
3. Amazon delivers to shelter with no shipping costs.

That’s exactly what we’ve created. A free online system that allows each shelter to build a custom wish list, publish that wish list, and allow their donors to make purchases online that are then automatically delivered to the shelter!
In the first six months 165 shelters in 43 states have turned their wish lists into automated online stores. More than 600 items have been donated already valued at over $14,000. What’s more, shelters find the management of wish lists faster and easier.

Easier to update with new needs, the ability to specify products that are needed (thus eliminating misfit donations that cannot be used), easier to promote and easier to coordinate deliveries.

And above all, easier to generate donations that keep shelters running optimally.

“Within the first week we received over $700 worth of donated items. Quite a wonderful surprise.”

Jeanette Ashton, Executive Director, Mt. Graham Safe House, Arizona
1. In a few clicks, a shelter creates its custom wish list.

2. Donors choose items to buy.

3. Upon checkout, items are automatically delivered to the shelter.
But Don’t Take Our Word For It
• “I find your [Facebook] page helpful. It helps me heal when I post comments.”
  - Noelle

• “Having a resource such as this is something I prayed for back when I was in an abusive relationship. Use this resource & be thankful for having it, for there was a time (not too long ago), when help was not easily available!”
  - Dawne

• “That's awesome! You’re literally saving lives @domesticshelters.”
  - Stephani

• “As a former domestic violence counselor, this is a website I turn to if I've forgotten something. Your information is spot on. Keep it up.”
  - Kat

• “I’m writing to thank you for the excellent work your organization has done in promoting awareness and resources for survivors of domestic violence.”
  - Lynne
• “I got support and advice from reading the articles and eventually pressed charges against my ex and have negotiated the legal system better prepared and informed with the information I got from your site.”
  - Anonymous

• “I have provided the staff at our shelter with the resource lists to go through and expand on our own resources.”
  - Tracey

• “I’m still married to him, but it has helped me realize I can’t live with him.”
  - Sue

• “The database has made providing referrals to programs in other areas much easier. I have also learned valuable information from the articles.”
  - Nancy

• “Made me realize that I want to live.”
  - Anonymous
• “The information you publish gives victims words for what they are experiencing. This for me is very empowering. When I know what and why, I am able to start asking how to change something.”
  - Dee

• “We use your site all the time! We reference it daily to help people find assistance in their area if we can’t help or they are outside of our area.”
  - Shelter representative in Idaho

• “@domesticshelter just wanted to say your site/concept is an excellent idea; we’d love to see something like it in every country!”
  - The Empowerment Network Uk

• “We use your site all the time. Your articles are very relevant, spot on, trauma-informed. Other resources don’t quite get it, but you do.”
  - Denise, shelter representative in Ohio

• “I’ve learned so much. A great help. Has all put words to that which I could see but hadn’t the words to what I see. Advice is so appreciated.”
  - Mary
Thank You!
